

HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY FUNDACIÓN AZTERLAN

AZTERLAN is a private, non-profit Technology Centre, whose purpose is to generate, develop and transfer knowledge in the field of metallurgy and the different technologies involved in the transformation of metallic materials, as well as to provide high added value services that contribute to improving the competitiveness level of the metal-mechanical industry.

The AZTERLAN Management maintains a firm commitment to work on the continuous improvement of the health and safety conditions of all members of the organization. For this purpose we have the necessary and appropriate facilities, materials and equipment.

Likewise, the organization is committed to complying with the legal and regulatory requirements that apply to it and to eliminating dangers and reducing risks to health and safety, along with all those requirements that the Technology Centre subscribes to.

In order to achieve these targets, AZTERLAN expresses its firm intention to implement and to maintain an updated Health and Safety Management System based on the guidelines of the current International Standard UNE EN ISO 45001, adapted to the needs of the Centre, which are specified in:

- Prevent work-related injuries and health deterioration and provide safe and healthy workplaces.
- Make the efforts and changes that are necessary to achieve the effectiveness of the system.
- Define and implement worker consultation and participation processes on health and safety.

The management board defines the health and safety objectives and the key resources to achieve them on yearly basis, analysing their compliance at the end of each period.

By approving this health and safety policy, AZTERLAN management shows its commitment to compliance with it and undertakes to disseminate, implement and keep it up to date throughout the organization, being aware that the stated objective can only be achieved with the participation and effort from all its members.

This policy is available to the agents and interested third parties, directly and indirectly involved in the scope of the Centre's activity.

Garikoitz Artola Beobide
General Manager

HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY CASA MARISTAS AZTERLAN

CASA MARISTAS AZTERLAN is a private, non-profit organization, whose purpose is to provide high added-value technological services that contribute to improving the competitiveness level of the metalworking industry: testing and certification, defect análisis, in-service failure diagnosis, advanced materials characterization and technical advice for solving metallurgical problems.

AZTERLAN management board maintains a firm commitment to work on the continuous improvement of the health and safety conditions of all members of the organization. For this purpose we have the necessary and appropriate facilities, materials and equipment.

Likewise, the organization is committed to complying with the legal and regulatory requirements that apply to it and to eliminating dangers and reducing risks to health and safety, along with all those requirements that the Technology Centre subscribes to.

In order to achieve these targets, AZTERLAN expresses its firm intention to implement and to maintain an updated Health and Safety Management System based on the guidelines of the current International Standard UNE EN ISO 45001, adapted to the needs of the Centre, which are specified in:

- Prevent work-related injuries and health deterioration and provide safe and healthy workplaces.
- Make the efforts and changes that are necessary to achieve the effectiveness of the system.
- Define and implement worker consultation and participation processes on health and safety.

The management board defines the health and safety objectives and the key resources to achieve them on yearly basis, analysing their compliance at the end of each period.

By approving this health and safety policy, AZTERLAN management shows its commitment to compliance with it and undertakes to disseminate, implement and keep it up to date throughout the organization, being aware that the stated objective can only be achieved with the participation and effort from all its members.

This policy is available to the agents and interested third parties, directly and indirectly involved in the scope of the Centre's activity.

Fco. Javier González Azpiri
Managing Director